Examples of APA Style – 7th Edition – Online

Listed below are some of the revisions to APA documentation style for online sources.

- Digital object identifiers (DOIs) or URLs are now both presented as hyperlinks for electronic sources. (A DOI is a unique and persistent identification number assigned to a digital object).
- Academic database information and URLs are not usually included in citation entries, include when citing sources that are only available within a certain database. Always include DOIs.
- Use “Retrieved from” (preceding the URL or DOI) only when a retrieval date is also provided in the citation. Include retrieval dates if the source material may change over time.
- Provide surnames and initials for up to and including 20 authors. When there are two to 20 authors, use an ampersand before the final author’s name. This is also true for print sources.
- When there are 21 or more authors, include the first 19 authors’ names, insert an ellipsis (but no ampersand), and then add the final author’s name. This is also true for print sources.
